Investment objective

The Fund is designed to offer capital appreciation over the longer term through investment primarily in a basket of international equity markets and currencies. The Fund is ideally suited to investors with a high risk tolerance with an investment horizon of 7 years or longer. The Fund intends to achieve its investment objective through a diversified global portfolio primarily consisting of investments in participatory interests of portfolios of collective investment schemes or other similar schemes.

Fund performance

Cumulative returns

Source: Morningstar, Lipper Hindsight, Northern Trust International Fund Administration Services (Guernsey) Limited. Past performance is not indicative of future returns.

The fund performance is calculated on a total return basis, net of all fees and in US dollar terms. NAV to NAV figures have been used for the performance calculations. The performance is calculated for the Fund. The individual investor performance may differ, as a result of various factors, including the actual investment date. Investment performance calculations are available for verification upon request. Annualised returns are period returns re-scaled to a period of 1 year. This allows investors to compare returns of different assets that they have owned for different lengths of time. Actual annual figures are available to investors upon request.

² Global Cash is expressed in USD and is composed of 50% ICE LIBOR 3M USD; 25% ICE LIBOR 3M EUR; 10% ICE LIBOR 3M GBP; 15% ICE LIBOR 3M JPY. Prior to April 2019 the performance of the fund on this document was compared against a benchmark which comprised 100% MSCI AC World.

⁶ Current asset allocation figures reflect the strategy classification of the collective investment schemes (or similar schemes) held by the Fund and do not look through to the underlying holdings of such schemes.

■ Market commentary

Developed market equities extended their gains in July and Wall Street reached new all-time highs, whereas emerging markets fell 1.2%. The UK was the biggest gainer in local currency terms, up 2.1%, but this was driven largely by a sharp fall in sterling which benefits the many UK listed stocks dependent on foreign earnings. Government bonds were generally firm as yields drifted lower while credit markets performed well with investment grade corporate and high yield bonds each returning 0.6% in the US and emerging market debt 0.8% over the month.

Should there have been any doubts about the scale of the manufacturing downturn across the world they were dispelled in July. Manufacturing is effectively in recession globally, led by those countries most dependent on the traded goods sector, most notably Germany with its large auto industry. The growing fear is that the downturn in manufacturing will eventually spill over into the all-important services sector, which to date has proved resilient.

These fears were exacerbated when at the end of July Trump surprised markets by announcing new tariffs from September 1st (although some increases have subsequently been postponed) of 10% on all remaining imports from China which do not yet attract tariffs, amounting to some $300bn of goods.

At the same time inflation has been remarkably constrained, with core inflation indices in the US, Europe and Japan stuck firmly below central bank target rates. It is the combination of slowing growth, and falling and/or very subdued inflation which has been instrumental in pushing bond yields down substantially in the past 9 months and forced central banks to loosen policy, with the Federal Reserve cutting interest rates by 0.25% in July.

However, the extent of the global slowdown needs to be kept in perspective: trade and manufacturing are contracting but the service sector continues to grow, employment remains strong and the consumer is generally in good shape. There are no signs of systemic financial problems and an ensuing liquidity crunch nor of capacity shortages, inflation and a sudden tightening of policy. With inflation subdued central banks have considerable flexibility in keeping policy ultra-loose for much longer, thereby extending this extraordinary cycle.

The falls in interest rates this year, both at the short end and throughout the yield curve, across all government bond markets, provide a strong underpinning to equities and other risk assets, offsetting the more challenging conditions faced by the corporate sector after last year's benign backdrop. Against a backdrop of heightened uncertainty some consolidation is overdue, but we believe that the cycle has further to run and any falls in markets will give rise to opportunities to add to risk assets, while at all times maintaining careful diversification in portfolios to provide protection during inevitable shorter term setbacks.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives.

The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Cell is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
