Market commentary

Political turbulence in August had a detrimental impact on the UK economy and markets, with Brexit uncertainty increasing as the UK nears the October 31st deadline to leave the EU, and Boris Johnson calling for the suspension of Parliament almost as soon as MPs return from the summer recess. Over the month the UK all cap index fell by -4.2% with large cap firms falling -4.4%. Year-to-date the UK all cap index has gained 10.5%. However, compared to their US and European counterparts, UK equity performance has been considerably worse, with the US and Europe only falling by -1.3% and -1.5% respectively. Broader developed and emerging market equities fell over the month by -1.7% and -4.5% respectively. Sterling performed largely flat against the US dollar, but this masks intra-month volatility which pushed the dollar higher in the second half of the month as trade tensions between the US and China increased. In fixed income, UK gilts performed strongly, returning 3.8% in August while sterling investment grade bonds gained 1.5%. Gilts underperformed US Treasuries (4.0%) but outperformed European government bonds (2.5%) and global government bonds (3.4%). With respect to commodities, Brent crude oil fell over the month ending -6.9% lower while copper prices, a proxy for industrial demand, fell -4.7%. Gold rallied significantly, up nearly 7.9%, as the flight to safe-haven assets continued in the face of rising global uncertainty, placing its year-to-date growth at 24.2%.
