Investment objective

The portfolio will be biased to investments in markets of developed Asian and emerging Asian countries, but could also hold investments outside these countries. The portfolio aims to provide a balance between capital preservation and capital growth with a reduced level of volatility, via strategic exposures to a wide range of asset classes.

Please refer to the Prospectus for full details of the fund, its charges, the investment objective and investment policy.

■ Manager commentary

Following the sharp setback in equity markets during October, we increased the allocation to developed market equities in the Portfolio by approximately 2% shortly after month end. The market environment has clearly become more challenging this year, but valuations in equities have improved significantly due to the strong growth in corporate earnings and market falls. We came into this period with a relatively cautious stance and so were able to take advantage of the buying opportunity presented to us whilst still maintaining a resilient and well-diversified Portfolio composition.

Also, in early October we initiated a small position in the Sequoia Economic Infrastructure Income Fund Ltd. This is a closed-ended fund listed on the London Stock Exchange. By virtue of its size (market cap of over GBP 1 billion) and good liquidity, it is a constituent of the FTSE 250 index. The Fund is managed by a highly experienced, well-resourced and dedicated management team in London. The strategy focus on taking debt exposures to operational economic infrastructure projects across mature developed market jurisdictions around the world, with a strong bias towards North America. The Fund yields close to 6% p.a. with much of this generated from floating rate loans, which are less vulnerable to interest rate increases than fixed rate bonds, and it is diversified across 59 underlying investments as well as across a wide variety of infrastructure categories. Accordingly this holding brings a high diversification benefit to the fixed income portion of this Portfolio. We took this new position during an equity placing completed by the manager at a discount to the prevailing market price. For now it is a relatively small position of less than 1% of the Portfolio but we intend to increase the position size over time.
